3. COVID-19 RELATED MATTERS

NSX recognises the challenges relating to disclosure for listed entities arising from the continually evolving and unprecedented situation surrounding the coronavirus pandemic ('COVID-19') and that different listed entities are being affected in varying ways by COVID-19.

It's noted that a listed entity's continuous disclosure obligations do not extend to predicting the unpredictable.

NSX does not expect listed entities to announce information that comprises matters of supposition or that is insufficiently definite to necessitate disclosure nor does NSX expect listed entities to make forwardlooking statements to the market unless they have a clear and reasonable basis for doing so.

Practical Guidance on Disclosure Obligations

- Material operational decisions: an entity that makes an operational decision that is likely to have a material effect on the price or value of its securities should immediately announce that decision to the market. This might include, for example, a decision to stand down a material number of employees or to close or suspend certain operations or facilities.
- Capital raisings: an entity that is proposing a capital raising to restore its financial position will need to announce it to the market as soon as it is committed to proceeding with the capital raising.
- Entities in financial difficulty: a listed entity in financial difficulty are subject to the same disclosure standards as any other entity. If there is an adverse development affecting the financial condition or prospects of an entity that a reasonable person would expect information about that development to have a material effect on the price or value of its securities, the listed entity must immediately disclose that information.

Misleading COVID-19 Announcements

The Treasurer on 25 May 2020 issued Corporations (Coronavirus Economic Response) Determination (No. 2) 2020 temporarily amending the continuous disclosure provisions that apply to the companies and their officers' to enable them to more confidently provide guidance to the market during the Coronavirus crisis.

4. NSX UPDATES

Trade Acceptance Service (TAS)

NSX is advancing towards achieving to "go-live" with TAS on 23 November 2020. This follows the ASIC regulatory approval, given to the NSXA for the TAS Business Rules in May 2020 and further subsequent consultation with ASX Clear.

The introduction of TAS rules will be a mandatory change for CHESS registered securities and the market at which point NSXA will commence disseminating its trades to ASX Clear through CHESS. Importantly, this development will harmonise the market practice for trade registration and post-trade processing between ASX, NSXA and Chi-X markets, and provide automation that is necessary for scaling NSXA operations. The resulting post-trade automation will also reduce risks and deliver greater efficiencies to NSXA participants.
