Aobo manufactures and sells air treatment solutions for industrial application and battery energy storage systems.

2. NOMINATED ADVISER UPDATES

One financial advisory firm has been admitted as NSX nominated adviser

Auspac Financial Advisory – Auspac is a fund management and corporate financial advisory firm to wholesale investors. Its service offering covers early stage, private equity and IPO fund, corporate finance, corporate secretary and investor relations.

3. COVID-19 RELATED MATTERS

NSX recognises the challenges relating to disclosure for listed entities arising from the continually evolving and unprecedented situation surrounding the coronavirus pandemic ('COVID-19') and that different listed entities are being affected in varying ways by COVID-19.

It's noted that a listed entity's continuous disclosure obligations do not extend to predicting the unpredictable.

NSX does not expect listed entities to announce information that comprises matters of supposition or that is insufficiently definite to necessitate disclosure nor does NSX expect listed entities to make forwardlooking statements to the market unless they have a clear and reasonable basis for doing so.

Practical Guidance on Disclosure Obligations

 Material operational decisions: an entity that makes an operational decision that is likely to have a material effect on the price or value of its securities should immediately announce that decision to the market. This might include, for example, a decision to stand down a material number of employees or to close or suspend certain operations or facilities.

- Capital raisings: an entity that is proposing a capital raising to restore its financial position will need to announce it to the market as soon as it is committed to proceeding with the capital raising.
- Entities in financial difficulty: a listed entity in financial difficulty are subject to the same disclosure standards as any other entity. If there is an adverse development affecting the financial condition or prospects of an entity that a reasonable person would expect information about that development to have a material effect on the price or value of its securities, the listed entity must immediately disclose that information.

Misleading COVID-19 Announcements

The Treasurer issued Corporations (Coronavirus Economic Response) Determination (No. 4) 2020 on 22 September 2020 to ensure that Corporations (Coronavirus Economic Response) Determination (No. 2) 2020 will continue in force for a futher period. Corporations (Coronavirus Economic Response) Determination (No. 2) 2020 temporarily amends the continuous disclosure provisions that apply to the companies and their officers' to enable them to more confidently provide guidance to the market during the Coronavirus crisis.

Announcements concerning new or revised business cases related to or including COVID-19 treatments, detection, preventative solutions, or inventions should have regard to the disclosure principles set out in the Code of Best Practice for Reporting by Life Sciences Companies, Second Edition.

Where NSX has concerns relating to a COVID-19-related announcement, NSX is likely to immediately suspend trading in the entity's securities pending further enquiries by NSX to establish that the announcement meets the requirements of the listing rules.

4. NSX UPDATES

Trade Acceptance Service (TAS)

National Stock Exchange of Australia (NSX) is pleased to advise that the Trade Acceptance Service (TAS) went live on 23 November 2020. NSX trades are now registered, novated, cleared and settled through CHESS on the same basis as trades executed through the ASX and Chi-X markets.

TAS represents a significant enhancement to the NSX Market. It brings post-trade automation to the back office by adopting current market practice through CHESS. This enables participants to reduce operational overhead through consistent processes across all markets.

A new version of NSX Business Rules that now apply after 23 November 2020 can be found here. The changes apply to Part D and will allow trades of CHESS approved securities to be cleared by the clearing service provider (ASX Clear).

Participants can also refer to Practice Note 23 Trade Acceptance Service here. PN23 explains the TAS regulatory framework, clearing and settlement message flows, as well as NSX expectations of participant readiness. Participants are encouraged to send any queries to the contact detail specified at the end of PN23.
