

NSX ANNOUNCEMENT

2 AUGUST 2002

Clarendon Hills Astralis Shiraz 2001 Wine Class Share (AWXCHA)

Indent Offer by Nicks Wine Merchants on Clarendon Hills 'Astralis' Shiraz 2001

It has come to our attention that Nicks Wine Merchants has marketed a pre-delivery offer relating to the Clarendon Hills 'Astralis' Shiraz 2001.

To the best of our knowledge, the offer was marketed on a pre-arrival basis with payment in full required by 1 September 2002 and expected delivery of the wine early November 2002. An allocation note indicated that for every 10 bottles of Clarendon Hills wines purchased, the buyer would have the opportunity to buy one bottle of 'Astralis'. The offer price was $250 per bottle.

The Clarendon Hills Astralis Shiraz 2001 Wine Class Share was offered by AWX Capital Limited in its third prospectus for $780 per share that was backed by six bottles of the specified wine.

Clarendon Hills Nominees Pty Ltd has confirmed to AWX Capital Limited (AWX) that:

- no allocation of the Clarendon Hills 'Astralis' Shiraz 2001 has been made to Nicks Wine Merchants.
- they are now aware that the offer has been withdrawn.
- AWX has been allocated the entire Australian allocation of the Clarendon Hills 'Astralis' Shiraz 2001 (as stated in AWX marketing documents).
